

2020 Annual Report

Norm's Letter

2020 was a year of learning for all of us.

We learned that Zoom does not just mean driving fast.

And Zoom-Zoom does not mean you own a Mazda. It means you have back-to-back meetings!

We also learned that Zoom allowed us to share our mission in new ways with virtual dedications, community meetings, education classes, and even Annual Meetings!

We learned that masks can be a fashion statement and not just worn on Halloween. We also learned about PPE and PPP and how truly resilient we are as a community. We worked from the office; worked remotely; adapted our jobsites and ReStore to operate with few volunteers; added new staff and new board members and emerged a stronger organization.

We learned how important our core volunteers are to our mission!

2020 also taught us that we can be successful despite the challenges we encountered. I am so proud of our staff, committees, full-time volunteers, and Board Members for their dedication to our mission; for keeping our staff and patrons safe; keeping our doors open; connecting with new donors and communicating with long-standing partners; looking for new opportunities; and for caring about our families so much that we still served 34 families!

Nineteen of the families were tornado survivors still putting their lives back together more than a year after the storms. We installed new roofs and siding; replaced broken windows and doors; and even rebuilt a home from the ground up. I hope you're as proud as I am of the amazing work we accomplished this year, in spite of the pandemic. It is a shining example of how committed we all are to ensuring every family has a safe, decent, affordable home.

Thank you for being a part of our Habitat for Humanity family!

Women Build

Ann Simms Memorial Women Build

After becoming inspired by her experience as a volunteer on a Women Build project in Florida, Ann Simms returned to Dayton, knowing that the women and women-owned businesses in the Dayton region would support a similar project. Ann fully embraced the Women Build goal of inspiring and empowering women to build better communities and to make the world a safer place for women and children.

Meeting with the leadership of Dayton Habitat, planning was begun and in 2000, Dayton saw its first Women Build. Habitat for Humanity of Greater Dayton has gone on to complete 8 Women Build houses benefiting families in need of affordable homes.

The Dayton community deeply felt the loss of Ann Simms in July of 2019, just shy of her 85th birthday. Habitat for Humanity of Greater Dayton responded by designating its 2020 build as the Ann Simms Memorial Women Build - 20 Years of Empowering Women.

The Simms Family

The Simms family has supported Habitat for Humanity of Greater Dayton since its founding. Charles Simms was even present at the organization's first Board of Directors meeting.

The financial support provided by the Simms family has allowed Dayton Habitat to grow from building only a single home a year to now providing multiple families with new and rehabbed homes every year, even in the face of the pandemic.

Volunteers

Regardless of the 2020 pandemic, volunteers took advantage of the safety precautions that Habitat for Humanity of Greater Dayton put into effect and continued to support Habitat on build sites and in the ReStore.

MetLife

MetLife has partnered with Habitat for Humanity for over 25 years which is one of our longest standing community partnerships.

During that time, MetLife has helped Habitat build about 30 homes and support many individuals and families. They have contributed $322,500 to support Habitat home builds over that time. Hundreds of MetLife employees/associates have volunteered thousands of hours on Habitat projects over the years.

Where Used Furniture Becomes Homes

Located next to Habitat for Humanity of Greater Dayton's main offices at 115 W. Riverview Ave., Dayton, OH, the Dayton ReStore is the place to shop for new and gently used items at significantly reduced prices. While visiting our ReStore you'll regularly find cabinets, furniture, appliances, light fixtures, doors, windows, home decor, and more. You'll also find paint, painting supplies, and flooring at low cost.

Whatever you are looking for, be sure to shop our ReStore for great deals that make a difference in our community. Why? Because every dollar of profit generated at Dayton's ReStore is used to build affordable homes and pay for critical repairs and disaster recovery in the greater Dayton area.

Would You Like to Donate Items to the ReStore?

Simply drop your small items off at the ReStore or contact the ReStore at 937.222.2296 or visit us at DaytonHabitat.Org/ReStore to schedule your free pick up.

Collaborations

Catch the Building Spirit
Catholics & Presbyterians Building Together

Catch the Building Spirit

This is the 28th year in which Catch the Building Spirit, a partnership of Catholic and Presbyterian churches, has been working in cooperation with Habitat for Humanity to build affordable homes for low income families in Greater Dayton.

Synchrony

Synchrony has contributed over $582,000 and partnered with Habitat for Humanity of Greater Dayton for at least 25 years. During that time, thousands of Synchrony employees have volunteered on build sites, committees, in the ReStore, and as members of our Executive Board.

Sisters of the Precious Blood

Habitat for Humanity of Greater Dayton received a significant gift from the Sisters of the Precious Blood to be used on one of our home building projects in Trotwood. The generous funding was given through Catch the Building Spirit and was used in the building of the home for Christal and her children.

Vectren, a CenterPoint Energy Company

Vectren donated $100,000 each year for three years, with the funds being used for Habitat for Humanity of Greater Dayton's critical repair program. Part of these funds were used to restore heat and hot water to Prudence's, a widow, home after she had gone without for two years. This is just one example of the many families that saw relief from Vectren's generosity.

Resiliency Fund

As a response to the extraordinary financial stresses placed upon Dayton Habitat's partner families and homeowners by the pandemic in 2020, the Resiliency Fund was established to assist families in need. The funds are used to pay rent, buy groceries, etc., when a family's income has been negatively impacted by COVID-19 and the family is struggling to make ends meet.

Amount Raised

Home Repairs

In addition to building affordable homes, Habitat for Humanity of Greater Dayton completes repairs of homes for families that could not afford to repair their homes without assistance. In 2020, our organization completed the following:

10 Critical Home Repairs

19 Tornado Repairs

Meet Our 2020 Homeowners

Aquanna

Prior to buying her Habitat home, Aquanna lived in a high crime neighborhood and even had her work shoes stolen right off her porch. She dreamed of having a home in a safe neighborhood where she could grow her own garden.

She credits Habitat classes with her success. "I'm not nervous about being a homeowner but I am very excited to use my new homeowner skill sets that I learned from my classes", said Aquanna.

James & Melissa

This hardworking couple and their family lived in the same home for years until the 2019 tornadoes damaged the home and their land lord refused to make repairs and stopped making mortgage payments, forcing them to move. Their next neighborhood was filled with crime, drugs, and violence.

Now they are in their new Habitat home. James says, "I never thought I could own my own home. This is the most important thing for my family. My kids will have a better life."

Monica

Monica was already accepted into Dayton Habitat's Home Buyer Program when the 2019 Tornadoes severely damaged her apartment, making the living conditions for she and her sons untenable. However, a loyal group of Habitat's hardworking volunteers stepped up in the face of the COVID-19 pandemic to ensure that Monica and her two sons could move into their new home. Not only do they have a safe and affordable home, something they had always dreamed of, it is only five minutes from Monica's work.

Christal

Becoming a homeowner is a dream come true for Christal and her children. Asked what the family was looking forward to the most about their new home, they quickly answered...a home of our own, privacy, and a place to have family gatherings. Her children wanted rooms of their own, something they had never had. To Christal and her children, these are all things that are dreams come true.

Tasha

Tasha estimates that she has had to move her family over ten times in the last fifteen years. Moving so much was hard on her children. "Just as they would get settled at a new school and start to make friends we'd have to move again. It's hard for them to move around that much. Something no mother wishes for her child. Tasha never thought her homeownership dream would come true. However, since buying her Habitat home, Tasha now says, "I won't ever have to move ever again."

Ken & Dorothy

On September 25th, Habitat for Humanity of Greater Dayton welcomed home Ken and Dorothy following extensive tornado repairs that were completed on their home.

The veteran and his wife were left homeless after the 2019 swarm of tornadoes ravaged the area.

The couple's home was the 17th tornado damaged house to be repaired by Habitat for Humanity of Greater Dayton.
